Title

Dragging a Text Block that Contains Lots of Emboldened Text

Created

Issue

Platforms
Mac OS 9,
Mac OS X

Note: Emboldened text results from selecting text and choosing Style > Embolden.

Windows 98,
ME, 2000, XP

Solution

Do not let go of the mouse button when dragging the text block. Wait until the text block moves to its new location (this may take a few seconds if you have lots of emboldened text), and then let go of the mouse button.

Additional Information

This problem does not occur when using a pre-styled bold font (e.g., Helvetica Bold) in place of the Embolden style.
